Why Remove this Location and Pollutant(s) from the APWL?

The TCEQ previously conducted mobile monitoring trips in response to odor complaints from citizens regarding Griffin Industries. The mobile monitoring trips provided data confirming that concentrations downwind of Griffin Industries violated hydrogen sulfide state regulatory standards. The TCEQ listed Bastrop on the Air Pollutant Watch List (APWL) in 2007 to reduce emissions by focusing TCEQ resources and heightening awareness. Griffin Industries subsequently installed a lagoon cover and on-demand flare system to reduce hydrogen sulfide emissions from the primary anaerobic lagoon, and monitoring was conducted in 2008 and 2010. The TCEQ determined that monitored hydrogen sulfide levels are below the state standards and does not expect hydrogen sulfide concentrations to exceed the state standards with the continued use of the control system.
